Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

We do not believe the electors in this time of national stress are going to be much interested in critcism of the personal shortcomings of presidential candidates or their relatives. For instance, we believe quite sincerely that James Roosevelt's career has been no credit to his father or the New Deal, but we don't think it should be, or can be made into a vital national issue. And similarly we don't believe Mr. Roosevelt is always loyal to his friends when such friendship might interfere with his own ambitious plans. For instance there was his break with Jim Farley, to whom in a political way he owed a great deal. But after all that too is not a national issue. Mr. Roosevelt has broken with a great many friends during the last eight years, Moley, Hugh Johnson, Woodring, Tugwell and others. But the comings and goings of palace favorites need not too much concern those who are aked to vote Mr. Roosevelt into office for a third term with a prospect of fourth when the third is served.

What every voter needs to do is to measure Mr. Roosevelt's accomplishments for the people, especially those, whom he happily designates as the "forgotten." In taking the measure of Mr. Roosevelt by a survey of net results, we should also consider the cost. We should consider his promises and his record in keeping promises. In his first campaign he bitterly assailed Mr. Hoover for expenditures and promised the people lower taxes. Once in power he spent more in eight years than the United States Government had cost in 100 years. So he did not keep that promise.

Each year until 1940 he promised to balance the budget, but every one knows he did not keep any of these promises. He promised to find employment for the unemployed and spent, all told, something like 10-billion dollars in the attempt, but, at least until the preparedness drive began, there have been about as many millions idle as there were when Mr. Roosevelt made his promise. By a promise, in this case we don't say he said in so many words that he would put all the unemployed to work, but he led the voters of the country to think that was precisely what he would do. He spoke so feelingly of the "forgtten man," of the ill housed, ill nourished and ill clad, etc. that tender hearted Americans sat around their radios wiping tears away. No doubt about it, that that cultured Harvardian voice just does raise heck with the heart strings.

To demonstrate what should be done for the very poor by your generous sympathetic Uncle Samuel, he had Mr. Tugwell build Greenbelt, a splendid village just a short drive from Washington, D. C. Some of the houses cost up to seven or eight thousand dollars. The village is modern, the latest word in shelter, recreation, swimming pools, golf greens, shady streets, with all the new gadgets in the dwellings. And so artistic! This was for the poor. But so much money was spent that the poor could not rent or pay installments at figures that would make a return on the investment. So they are now rented to well salaried employes of your Uncle Samuel, working in Washington and living in Greenbelt. Here in Nevada City there are probably not a half dozen homes that would compare with Greenbelt's poorest home, but just the same every taxpayer in Nevada City had to pay for Greenbelt.

Now in a way, Greenbelt is not very important, it is only a small drop from the Treasury spigot, that has been running wide open since Franklin D. Roosevelt came to power. But the Greenbelt incident is typical of the Roosevelt mind. The Greenbelt village is only a tiny drop to be sure, just a few hundred thousand spent in Mr. Tugwell's idle time, but the TVA, is something else. Mr. Lillienthal and his associates at the head of the TVA, which as everyone should know is the Government engaged in private business, held a large bucket under the Treasury spigot, and let it fill and run over, not once, but several times, so that theoretical benefits that may flow from TVA will require a great many years to balance the flow from the Treasury spigot. The real value of TVA that anyone can now see with half an eye, is its lesson to the people. It will be a measuring stick but not the kind that Mr. Roosevelt so fondly pictured. It has already proved the unfitness of politicians with access to the U. S. Treasury to conduct a business enterprise. When Wendell Willkie challenged the triumvirate who had proposed virtually to browbeat or swindle the stock holders of the Commonwealth and Southern out of stock values in certain Tennessee utilities which TVA wished to take over, at depreciated prices they had helped to create, an electric shock ran through the nation.

Willkie publicly questioned the ethics of the New Deal, which in order to make a fine TVA measuring stick, proposed to rob thousands of stock holders, many of them aged, many of them widows, many of them children supported from trust funds, in fact thousands who had invested money in stock as others do in savings bank accounts.

Willkie makes the issue so simple that anyone who takes the trouble to study it can grasp it. He showed that the New Deal, in order to make a yardstick for private utilities proposed to do it in a manner that no court of justice in the country would permit to a private corporation.

Now Willkie as a candidate for president of the United States, we believe, will go on to show that the New Deal comes preciously close to being one of those things generally known as benevolent despots. In order to benefit one group of citizens it has deliberately injured other groups. We believe that despite wooing, honeyed phrases and promises radioed from Washington Mr. Willkie will be able to give the majority of Americans a true picture of the peril in which they stand of choosing a benevolent autocrat who desires to make the White House his permanent home.

MINERS TAKE VALLEY LEAGUE LEAD WITH 14 TO 4 VICTORY OVER OAKS

Grass Valley Win Coupled With Defeat of Redding Breaks Several Weeks Deadlock In Race For Second Half Pennant

Unleashing a 23 hit attack, the Grass Valley Miners swamped the Woodland Oaks, 14 to 4 yesterday at Woodland to take undisputed lead in the hot'y contested Sacramento Valley League race. The win, coupled with Chico's defeat of Redding, 4 to 1, enabled the Miners to assume the league lead. For several weeks the lead had been in a two and three way tie.

The Miners piled up an early lead against the Oaks, enabling Manager Archie Campbell, who has yet to be defeated as a pitcher in the Sacramento Valley League, to coast to an easy victory. Campbell was touched for ten hits. Woodland used Kirtlan and Samborsky on the mound.

The scores of yesterday's games:

	R.	H.	E.
Grass Valley	14	23	2
Woodland	4	10	5

Batteries: Campbell and Brock; Kirtlan, Samborsky and King, Herringer.

	R.	H.	E.
Chico	4	8	1
Redding	1	4	1

Batteries: LeGault and Boone; Bertolina, Baldwin and Knight.

	R.	H.	E.
Yuba City	9	6	5
Marysville	6	9	5

Batteries: Newman and Roberts; Lazzarone, Perry and Borreani.

Milton Trout Deaths First Believed a Ton Shrinks Considerably

Gamewarden R. E. Tutt, of Downieville, who has been investigating the reported death of a ton of fish at Milton Dam recently, said only about 200 pounds of fish died when the Nevada Irrigation District water storage unit was drained.

Tutt said a good many fish were found dead but the greatest majority of them went down the outlet drain into the river below when the lake was drained. He said it would have been impossible to rescue the fish that were left in the bottom of the dam because of the heavy layer of mud.

Reports that first came into Nevada City on the fish perishing incident were that least a ton of trout died when the lake was drained.

NEVADA CITY FORFEITS FINAL BALL CONTEST

The Nevada City baseball team forfeited to Newcastle yesterday. The game was to have been played at Newcastle.

Because of the two day holiday at the Lava Cap Mine, where most of the ball players are employed, Manager Bill Clark was unable to place a team on the field. Many of the players took advantage of the two days off to go to the fair in San Francisco.

The game was to have been the final of the season for the local team. The Nevada City nine made a good showing in the first half, winning a majority of the games played and losing to Newcastle in the playoff for the first half title. The second half, however, was a different story. Four games were forfeited.

FISHING IMPROVING IN THIS SECTION

Fishing in the Nevada-Sierra County area seems to improve as the season advances. Many limits are being caught out of the lakes as well as the streams, which are rapidly becoming lower.

Bill Buffington caught a limit last week east of here. A limit was also caught by Albert Pratti in the Bowman Lake district last week.

It was reported here boats are now available at Lake Bowman and many local sportsmen are no longer transporting their boats over the rough roads to the lake to fish. Fishermen must also remember until August 15 there is only one route into Bowman and that is via the Gaston Grade through Washington

Sun-high Summer can be a comfortable season when you can ease off the exertion of mealtime cooking upon the capable automatic controls of a modern electric range.

You place a complete meal—meat, potatoes, vegetables—in the oven of an Automatic Electric Range. You set the time and temperature controls. That is all. No need for you to stand-by and peek and baste. You have "time-off" for the day to relax as lazy-like as you wish.

Why not swing through Summer as thousands of modern California housewives are doing today? Let an automatic electric range cook the food for you. You will find it at all times the most perfect servant you have ever used. You can afford it. You should have this service.

TECHNICOLOR FILMS SHOWN BY FORD MOTORS

An interesting motion picture entitled "Symphony in F" was shown Thursday at the Rotary luncheon by Jack Doyle, of Ford Motor plant at Richmond. The picture was in technicolor and graphically illustrates the influence of the automobile industry on all phases of American life. Doyle was introduced by Gus Helbach, Ford distributor for this region and member of the Grass Valley Rotary Club.

At Washington on the South Yuba Mr. Doyle will put on a technicolor film Friday night August 16, entitled "Science Rules the Rouge." This is a comprehensive picture of the tremendous plant on the River Rouge. It gives a fescinating panorama of the great laboratories that lead the tremendous advance in the modes of travel that in four generations have witnessed the Conestoga wagons and ox-carts and the speed and comfort exemplified today in the modern auto and highway.

From Treasure Island comes this information:

"One of the features in the Ford Building on Treasure Island this year has been the daily recurrent showing of the Technicolor movie "Symphony in F" in the movie theatre on the premises. So well received has been this film, in fact, that this week the Ford Mtor Company announces the release of three other features, now available, without charge, for showings before the school and church groups, service clubs, and other organizations of a civic character."

BIRTHS IN CALIFORNIA SHOW INCREASE

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12—(UP)—The state department of public health reported today there was a seven per cent increase in births in California during the first four months of this year.

The department said there were 34,608 live births in the four month period, compared to 32,324 during the same period of 1939.

Marriage records for the first five months of the year showed a decrease in licenses issued of 37 per cent. Up to the first of June 13,941 marriage licenses were issued, compared with 22,136 during the same period of last year. The decrease is attributed to the premarital test law which became effective last year.

The department revealed it has been overwhelmed with requests for duplicate birth certificates. Apparently, the department says, the demand for the certificates is caused by the fact they are now required for employment in airplane and other national defense factories.

Lee Leiter, retired Nevada City merchant, has returned to his home after spending several months in Oakland.
